Gun-Running Red Trawler Runs Aground

SAIGON (AP)—A gun-running Red trawler, seeking to supply Communist forces by sea, ran aground and was blown up on a South Vietnamese beach today under pursuit by American warships.

Across the country, enemy forces supplied via the Ho Chi Minh trail, pressed a series of massive mortar attacks on elements of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier.

Field dispatches said the enemy, identified as North Vietnamese regulars, killed 11 Americans, wounded 113 and did considerable damage to equipment in a half-dozen shellings through Monday and today. Counterfire from American artillery, helicopters and planes was reported to have killed 29 of the North Vietnamese.

Whatever the immediate objective of the mortar attacks, the Communists have tried year after year to mass sufficient arms and men to strike across the highlands from the frontier to the sea and cut South Vietnam in two. They never have gotten far.

The Red trawler was a steel-hulled 100-footer, which ran aground about 100 miles south of the border between North and South Vietnam.

During the chase, it shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat.

Communist crewmen set off explosive charges after they hit the beach, but much contraband, including small arms and ammunition, was recovered by allied salvage teams.

Heavy weather again moved in over much of North Vietnam, limiting U.S. warplanes to 92 missions Monday. Most were against supply lines and rail targets in the southern coastal area.

The Communist trawler was spotted by a Navy Neptune patrol plane 25 miles off the coast of Quang Ngai Province, about 325 miles northeast of Saigon.

The destroyer Brister, the Coast Guard cutter Point Ellis and the faster, 50-foot Swift patrol boat No. 78 were dispatched to intercept the trawler.

When the Brister let go a long-range warning shot across the trawler's bow, the Communist

Name-Calling, Castigation Charged In Magazine Item

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson castigated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., last month for his stance on Vietnam and told the senator his political career would end rapidly if he maintained the stance, Time magazine reports. Time says Kennedy called the President an s.o.b.

"He (Kennedy) did not call the President a s.o.b.," said two aides to Kennedy—Frank Mankiewicz in Washington and Adam Walinsky, who was in Oklahoma City with the senator on a speaking engagement. Kennedy could not be reached directly.

In Washington, White House press secretary George Christian said the version of the Johnson-Kennedy confrontation that has appeared in print in several more or less similar forms "doesn't accord with the memories of three people who were in that meeting."

Later, Christian reiterated his version at a news briefing and went a little way into specifics. Asked if his denial applied only to the intemperate language cited in the reports, Christian replied: "I'm referring to the whole general tone of the reported conversation."

He specifically denied there was any name calling or that Johnson told Kennedy he never wanted to see him again.

The press secretary said he understood the conversation generally dealt with a decision of Kennedy's European trip and his impressions of a meeting in

Airliner Crashes In Indian Ocean

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP)—The airliner which U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy chartered during his visit to South Africa crashed into the Indian Ocean Monday night, apparently killing all 25 persons aboard. An American woman was reported among the victims.

It was the worst air crash in South African history.

Col. C.R. Botha, the divisional police commissioner, denied a report that 21 bodies had been washed ashore during the night. He said only a few pieces of wreckage had been found and because of strong currents in the area, a wide stretch of the coast was being searched.

The South African Press Association said the American woman passenger was Audrey Rosenthal, a doctor of philosophy in history from the University of California who was also a graduate of the University of Michigan.

The news agency said she was between 27 and 30, had been working in London for more than two years as a consultant on teaching aids, and was making a six-week tour of South Africa to set information about conditions and life in the country.

Report Highs, Lows In Net Farm Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that realized net income per farm in 1966 ranged from an average high of $21,671 in Arizona to an average low of $1,055 in West Virginia.

Realized net income is the amount farmers have left from receipts, government payments and the non-money value of their dwelling and home-produced and consumed foods after paying production costs.

Nationally, realized net farm income averaged $5,024 last year compared with $4,210 in 1965.

The average realized net income per farm in other states last year and the percentage change from the year before included:

Illinois $8,043, up 30 per cent; Iowa $7,778, up 24; Missouri $3,878, up 17; Nebraska $7,157 up 33; Kansas $4,450, up 18; Oklahoma $3,444, up 11; Colorado $3,949 up 5, and Arkansas $5,674, up 11.

Missouri's Budget Out Of Committee

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri budget came out of the house Appropriations Committee Monday with a $1.106 billion price tag on it.

The chairman of the committee, Rep. E. J. (Lucky) Cantrell, D-Overland, said this total represented revenue from all sources, including the federal government.

The committee reduced Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' recommended budget by $1,234,738. Major cuts were in the area of financial assistance to regional planning districts which were pared from $300,000 to $50,000. Cantrell said the cut was to avoid offering incentives to regional planning districts so they would make earnest efforts within their regions for necessary funding.

The Missouri Council on Arts took a $50,390 reduction from their request of $300,000, because the committee felt the need to restrict expansion of the Council's activities.

The Division of Mental Diseases got an increase of $490,000 for planning of juvenile centers at state hospitals in Fulton, Nevada, St. Joseph, St. Louis and Farmington, and for planning of diagnostic centers at Marshall and St. Louis.

Several of these centers had come under separate sections of the budget request, and the committee felt it better to lump them under one appropriation, Cantrell said.

The attorney-general's office received a $85,000 increase with $50,000 to provide for settling of border disputes, and the rest for court actions.

Other increases include: Addition of four auditors to the director of revenue at a cost of $36,727.

An increase of $43,920 to the highway patrol for uniform allowances.

An $18,540 to the Department of Agriculture to join a soybean market compact with other states.

The state fair operations were increased by $100,000 to permit advance contracting.

Texas Farmers Lead Nation In Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas farmers led the nation last year in receiving government payments with a total of $451.87 million.

An Agriculture Department report showed today total farm payments last year were a record high, $3.27 billion. In 1965 they totaled $2.45 billion.

Other states high in receipt of farm payments included: Kansas $226.55 million; Iowa, $211.72 million; Nebraska, $176.14 million; Missouri $139.02 million; Illinois $121.75 million; and Oklahoma $107.93 million.

Present Another Argument In Income Surtax Proposal

Request for Restoration Of Business Incentive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gave Congress another strong argument for President Johnson's income surtax proposal today even as he asked the legislators to approve a different, tax reducing measure.

Fowler appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering Johnson's request for an immediate restoration of two tax incentives for business that were suspended last year. These are the investment tax credit, by which business can recover 7 per cent of spending on equipment, and a set of speeded-up depreciation rules of advantage to owners of profitmaking buildings.

Since Johnson asked last week for restoration of these incentives, there has been much speculation that the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge legislation may not, after all, be sent up to Congress.

Fowler told the committee it was natural to ask about the connection between the two proposals. But he said they are "essentially quite different in design and purpose."

"I have already indicated the suspension of the investment credit was not a revenue measure and had a specific and limited objective — to dampen the excessive boom in the market for capital goods," Fowler said. "The excessive boom is over and there is no reason for continuing the suspension."

He said the income tax proposal in contrast is "an over-all, across-the-board fiscal measure designed to cope with the economic and budgetary situation as we anticipate it for the latter half of 1967 and throughout 1968."

Floor action on the investment credit has been tentatively scheduled for Thursday.

Administration sources say the two-month delay on submitting the surtax request stems mainly from hints dropped by the Ways and Means Committee that it can't possibly hold hearings on the surtax until June. Some members of Congress have been cool to the planned tax increase.

But the longer wait will also permit the administration to make any last-minute changes in the proposal to compensate for any changing economic conditions.

Administration sources insist, however, that the economy is plodding along generally on the track they charted in the January economic report to Congress.

The tax plan has been outlined to Congress by the administration but no specific legislation (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 7)

Area Resident Dies Monday In Accident

Larry E. Cooper, Of Near Tipton, Fatally Injured

Larry Eugene Cooper, 23, of near Tipton, was fatally injured about 11:30 o'clock Monday night, just east of Tipton, in a two car collision. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Bothwell Hospital. Two men in a second car involved in the accident were injured and brought to the hospital.

The death of Cooper was the 13th for 1967 in Troop F area compared to 21 at the same time in 1966. It was the second death in Monticau County compared to none at the same time in 1966.

The injured men who were brought to Sedalia were Henry L. Brown, 43, of Shawnee, Kan., who is president of the Carpenter's District Council in Kansas City, and Ralph Austin Hagar, 48, of 502 South Third Street, Clinton. They were brought to Sedalia in the Conn Funeral Home ambulance.

Brown, driver of one car suffered a laceration to his nose, laceration and cuts of both legs, and a cut on the right elbow. He also complained of soreness in the right shoulder and chest. X-rays were taken to determine if there were any broken bones.

Hagar received a cut on the right knee and right arm and complained of chest pains.

The two were treated by Dr. Donald Eldenburg, and admitted to Bothwell Hospital.

Cooper was brought to Sedalia to the hospital in the Richards ambulance. Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, Pettis County coroner, viewed the body at the hospital and reported he died as a result of a fractured skull.

Argue Shaw Case

Guard In Legal Showdown On Assassination Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A heavy guard was ordered today for the legal showdown in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe.

BULLETIN

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Perry Raymond Russo, a witness for Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, testified today that Clay L. Shaw was one of the three men he heard plotting to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Twenty sheriff's deputies were assigned to watch over the small Criminal District courtroom while state and defense lawyers argue whether retired executive Clay L. Shaw should go to trial.

Garrison accused Shaw, 54, former managing director of the International Trade Mart here, of conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to kill President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren Commission report named Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, as the killer — and said there was no credible evidence that a conspiracy was involved.

The president was killed in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. Whether there is enough evidence to warrant formal charge and trial for Shaw was the only matter before the preliminary hearing. Shaw called Garrison's accusations "fantastic."

Under Louisiana law, Shaw was booked — but not formally charged — with conspiracy to murder the president. He was freed on $10,000 bond.

The preliminary hearing was then called by Garrison, a rare move in Louisiana legal procedure. An equally rare three-judge panel was set up to preside.

The district attorney has kept his case secret. But U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, in Washington, said he knows what it involves and does not consider the case valid.

Clark said Shaw, during the exhaustive investigation which followed the assassination, was checked out by the FBI and cleared. He declined to say why Shaw was investigated.

Damper On Speculation About Trip

Guam Meeting One Of Series Being Held Periodically

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has placed a damper on speculation that President Johnson's trip Saturday to Guam will result in any spectacular developments concerning the Vietnam war.

Presidential aides said Monday the Guam meeting is just one of a series being held semi-annually to review military and civil development aspects of the Vietnam effort.

White House press secretary George Christian said, meanwhile, that Johnson "would not allow politics to interfere with any decision affecting the Vietnam situation."

He was responding to questions about the decision of the California Democratic Council — a 30,000-member political group — to support a "peace candidate" in the 1968 California Democratic presidential primary unless the war is ended by September.

The council in the past has supported an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

The Pentagon refused comment Monday on reports that U.S. B52 bombers will be based in Thailand under a newly reached agreement with Vietnam's Southeast Asian neighbor.

Refuses To Vacate Order On Arrest

Powell Could Renew His Appeal Under Conditions

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Appellate Court by a four to one vote, today refused to vacate a lower court order permitting the arrest of former Rep. Adam Clayton Powell if he comes here on Sunday, as he has promised.

The court said Powell could renew his appeal if he submitted himself to the jurisdiction of the court by complying with the criminal contempt citation against him.

Powell, who said Monday he will end his self-imposed exile and return to walk Harlem's streets on Palm Sunday despite possible arrest, had appealed an order issued Nov. 28 calling for his arrest on any day of the week.

Before that order was issued, he was free from the possibility of arrest on Sundays.

His attorneys have argued that the Harlem minister could not be arrested on Sunday because the contempt arose from a civil rather than a criminal case.

The court said today in its ruling "it is quite clear from the record and the history of the case, that the appellant has willfully remained outside the state in order to avoid the jurisdiction and authority of our courts."

The court continued, "he has chosen to do so, but the courts will not, in the meantime, hear this application intended to review the proceedings against him which have resulted in his present plight."

If Powell "sincerely desires a review by the courts," the decision said, "the best proof he can make is to present himself to the officer whose duty it is to arrest him."

Lose Appeal On Conviction For Murder

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Edgar Holland, who was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1945, lost his appeal for a new trial in the Missouri Supreme Court Monday.

He was convicted of the murder of his wife. The body of his wife and his mother-in-law were recovered near the Grand Glaize bridge, near the Lake of the Ozarks. Both bodies were dismembered and the heads of the women have never been recovered.

Application for a new trial was based on recent U. S. Supreme Court rulings about coercion, the right not to talk and adequate counsel. It was claimed that these rights had been violated.

The Missouri Supreme Court held that there was no evidence of any violation of these rights and a new trial was turned down.

In another decision the high court held legal and proper the director of revenue's authority to revoke a driver's license when he refuses to take a chemical test of his sobriety.

The Supreme Court judges refused an ouster proceeding of a county judge of the Worth County court.

The action was brought by the county attorney.

Judge Lester Fletchall was charged with employing his relatives and using for his own personal privilege his powers as county court judge.

The court held the record did not show that employment of his relatives amounted to any special interest and work on the road near his home was not special interest "but only a rounding out operation on a county road."

In another case that attracted a lot of attention several years ago, W. A. Brookshire, now 74, a former state senator from Ashland, Mo., and a prominent stockman, failed again in his effort to win freedom from the penitentiary where he is serving a 10 year term for killing one of his farm hands.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell that woman who went into a depression over the "death" of a soap opera character to cheer up.

The same thing happened to me. I was down in the dumps (cried and everything) for four days. Then, by accident, I discovered my dead hero was the leading man in another soap opera.

I'll bet if this woman switches to another channel she will find her dead hero, too. — HAPPY AGAIN

Dear Happy: I have received hundreds of letters from readers who tell me that dead hero is very much alive.

According to my readers, he was a brain surgeon in "As The World Turns." Then to the astonishment of millions of viewers, he died on the operating table. Within a matter of days, however, he turned up, happily practicing surgery in another soap opera called "The Nurses."

So, to paraphrase the famous words of Douglas MacArthur, "Soap opera heroes never die. They just change networks."

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 20-year-old college junior. I live at home and commute daily by bus. Two weeks ago I became acquainted with a young man in one of my classes. He drives a car and offered to take me home from school even though it is out of his way.

We enjoyed talking and he offered to drive me home every day. Here is my problem. Mother saw me get out of his car this afternoon and asked about the fellow. When I told her of the lucky break I was getting she let fly with both barrels. She screamed, "How can you be so stupid? Nobody does anything for nothing. That fellow is going to expect to be paid for the rides and the price may be higher than you want to pay."

I don't believe he is that kind of a person but, even if he is, I feel that my mother should have more faith in me. After all, the girl is boss, and I am 20 years of age. Comment please. — TRUSTING SOUL

Dear Soul: The fellow might very well demand "payment" one day, and if he does, you can pay him with Confederate money, Spanish doubloons, or a Methodist handshake.

I agree that the girl is boss and you sound like a girl who is in the driver's seat even when she's a passenger.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you published Twelve Rules For Rearing Children. One of those rules has me puzzled. You said, "Do not smother your children with superficial manifestations of love."

I always thought it was good for children to be kissed and caressed. We are an affectionate family and although we do not believe in public displays of affection we do a lot of kissing and hugging at home. A wise friend once told me that children need this — that parents can never give a child too much love.

Please explain your position. — DES MOINES MOTHER

Dear Mother: The key word in my rule is "superficial." Superficial means shallow, not deep or meaningful. Caressing and kissing children is fine but it is not proof of love, and the dullest child knows an empty performance when he sees one. Parents who truly love their children show it by expending the time and energy to guide and discipline them, by sharing experiences with them, and by setting a good example.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seek Link In 'Pills' With Births

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican doctors are trying to determine whether birth control pills had anything to do with the birth of octuplets to Maria Teresa Lopez de Sepulveda. All eight children died within 13 hours of birth.

Doctors at the hospital where the infants died said they are using autopsy results to see if they can find a definite link between the birth control pills taken by the mother and the multiple births.

Mrs. Sepulveda, 21, took birth control pills for about a year, but stopped taking them about eight months before the birth of the four boys and four girls last Friday.

The birth of octuplets has been recorded twice before in this century — in Mexico in 1921 and in China in 1934.

Dr. Kurt Ambrosius Diener, director of pathology at the 20th of November hospital, performed autopsies on the eight children before their burial. He said final results will not be ready for a week or 10 days but they apparently died because of underdeveloped respiratory systems.

The doctor also said the mother and father would be asked to submit to physical examinations next week. The father, Genaro, 24, is a bookkeeper for the Mexican Social Security Institute.

Dr. Pablo Rodriguez Medina, the pediatrician who was in charge of the eight infants during their brief lives, said multiple births in Mexico have increased about 200 per cent since birth control pills were introduced into Mexico.

Another doctor said there have been many cases of multiple births in the United States after the mother stopped taking the pills. He said doctors are still trying to figure out why this happens.

Bad Advice?

Meredith Decision Stills Criticism From All Sides

NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith's sudden decision to pull out of the congressional race against Adam Clayton Powell has stilled the angry criticism generated in Harlem by his candidacy.

Former critics freely praised the young maverick civil rights activist who decided not to run as a Republican less than 24 hours after saying the race was as important to him as a presidential nomination.

But Meredith's generally cryptic statements have made the decision a subject for extensive speculation, and there is a growing feeling in Harlem that he may have been the victim of bad advice.

Almost from his announcement of candidacy last Tuesday, a revolt was evident among Harlem Republicans, none of whom had a good word for his candidacy.

Cora Walker, a GOP leader in Harlem, said party committee men in Powell's 18th Congressional District would not have endorsed Meredith, who calls himself an independent Democrat, partly because he was chosen by white party leaders without the advice of Negroes in Harlem.

Meredith, 33, said first at an impromptu news conference Monday that he had changed his mind because the Republicans had not delivered on promises of money to help finance his campaign and other assistance. "I knew the moment the sentiment came from the community, his money would be cut off," said Mrs. Walter. "In politics, nobody supports a loser."

Later, at a second, formal news conference, Meredith appeared vague on why he had pulled out. He denied it was because of pressures brought by Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Charles Evers, Mississippi state director of the NAACP, at a three-hour meeting Sunday night short before he announced his withdrawal. They told Meredith he would be dead politically if he insisted on opposing Powell.

Evers described the meeting as dramatic and tearful. He said he and Meredith clasped hands and wept when they parted sometimes after 1 a.m. Meredith made his announcement shortly after 1 a.m.

With Vincent Albano Jr., chairman of the New York County Republican Committee, at his side, Meredith did not repeat his accusations at the formal news conference that the Republican party reneged on promises of money and campaign help. Albano is white.

Asked why, in view of the election's importance, he withdrew, he said he thought his press secretary, C. Robert Belt, answered that best when he

Roberts Will Inventory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The estate of the late Roy A. Roberts, former editor and president of the Kansas City Star, was valued at $4,828,356 in an inventory filed Monday in Jackson County Probate Court.

The assets included $4,828,356 in stock of the Star company. Roberts, who died Feb. 23, bequeathed the estate to his family and a wide range of educational, religious and eleemosynary institutions.

said, "We may never fully know."

Asked repeatedly whether he would support Powell, he said the election was "bigger than Adam Clayton Powell."

Pressed for clarification, he said America had a secret ballot and "I'll decide when I'm ready."

Asked if he had been threatened, he angrily replied: "It's a good thing no one ever threatened me."

Several persons who have talked with Meredith in recent days have said they believe neither he nor his advisers knew Harlem, and were therefore stunned by the unanticipated reaction. Meredith does not live in Harlem.

Belt, who is one of Meredith's close friends, hinted that the man who braved a riot to desegregate the University of Mississippi, and then was shot on a march through Mississippi, may have been stunned by the amount of emotionalism in the sentiment for Powell.

Tschombe Sentenced To Death

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) —Former Congolese Premier Moise Tschombe was sentenced to death in absentia for high treason by a special military court here today.

Tschombe is presently living in Madrid, Spain.

Tschombe, now 47, on July 11, 1960, declared copper-rich Katanga Province independent of the newly independent nation of the Congo and himself president. He stood off attempts by the United Nations to return the province into the Congo fold for 30 months. He finally capitulated on Jan. 15, 1963, after U.N. forces routed his white-officered gendarmerie.

Then he went into European exile and seemed destined to live out his life there. But in little more than a year he went back to the Congo and became premier of the nation on July 10, 1964.

There was constant criticism of his regime, inside and outside the Congo, however, and on Oct. 13, 1965, he was ousted and again went into exile.

It was during Tschombe's period of rule in Katanga that U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was killed in a plane crash in Rhodesia while on a flight to see Tschombe for cease-fire talks, in September 1961. The Katangan forces had just clashed for the first time with the U.N. peace force.

Wolfhounds Foiled Again By Viet Cong

Northern Plain of Reeds, Vietnam (AP) — The 25th Division's Wolfhounds trudged through the vast swamplands 30 miles west of Saigon, destroying homes, food, gardens, livestock and even pets — everything that could be of use to the Communists.

But for the second time in a month, a large American trap to snare major Viet Cong forces threatening Saigon failed to catch any sizeable number of the enemy.

The operation was launched last Wednesday but was not announced until today for security reasons. It covered more than 100 square miles in the northern end of the Plain of Reeds, an area of swamp and marsh long dominated by the Viet Cong and a major route for Communist units moving between the Mekong Delta and Cambodia into Communist war zones C and D.

The Viet Cong force of 5,000 said by intelligence to be in the area was reported just over the border in Cambodian sanctuary. They apparently moved just before the operation began, military sources said.

So far in the multibattalion operation, American GIs have killed only five Viet Cong and seized another 32 persons as suspects. U. S. casualties, one killed and 17 wounded, were largely the result of booby traps and mines.

"Baka" regiment, which mutinied in Kisangani in July 1966 and Katangan Capt. Kalondamwana also were sentenced to death today.

The 25th Division also was involved in Operation Junction City north of the Plain of Reeds in war Zone C, where the Pentagon said 10,000 soldiers of the 9th Viet Cong Division were located. The U.S. Command claims more than 750 enemy killed in that operation. Most resulted from action involving Viet Cong attacks on U.S. positions on edge of the operation.

Both Junction City and the new operation, named Waialua after a Hawaiian town, are continuing with little hope of tangling with a major enemy force unless the Communists decide to attack small, relatively isolated and exposed units as they often have in the past.

'Christ In Art' Presented During Music Club Week

"Christ In Art" was presented at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of Helen G. Steele Music Club on March 8 at the Heard Memorial Club House.

The script for the program was written by Mrs. Roger Martin. Mrs. Jack Gray was reader. Religious prints furnished by Bowman's were used to illustrate the musical selections played.

The first painting, "Christ at Thirty-Three" by Johann Heinrich Hofmann, reveals all the strength, clean manhood and spiritual beauty of Christ at the culmination of his ministry.

"Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach, arranged by E. Power Biggs, was presented as a piano and organ duet by Mrs. Gary Schwartz and Mrs. James Penn.

The painting, "The Good Shepherd" by Warner Sallman, reveals the tender expression in the eyes of the shepherd who cares for the sheep as devotedly as a mother does her child.

A vocal solo, "He Shall Feed His Flock" from Handel's "Messiah", sung by Mrs. Jack Herndon, presented a musical portrait of Christ as a shepherd. "The Triumphal Entry" the painting, by Bernard Placost, has happiness, love, and adoration shining on the faces of all the disciples and the women who followed Christ and loved him devotedly.

A vocal duet, "The Holy City" by Stephen Adams was presented by Mrs. Jack Herndon and Mrs. Robert Seelen.

"Christ in Gethsemane," by Johann Heinrich Hofmann, is one of the most widely known paintings in the world. Here, Mrs. Gray stated, in one of the loneliest spots that could possibly be found, the artist portrays Jesus kneeling with outstretched, clasped hands before a barren rock. His face in this midnight vigil is illuminated by a light from above.

A vocal solo, "Gethsemane" by Robert Harkness was sung by Mrs. Don Buller.

The selection "Into the Woods my Master Went" by Nevin was presented by the Choral Group. "Ecce Homo" (Behold the Man) by the Italian painter, Antonio Cesari, brings Christ's trial before Pilate to life. "He was Despised" from Handel's "Messiah" expresses Christ's rejection. This was presented as a contralto solo by Mrs. Robert Seelen.

The contemporary artist, Salvador Dali in his painting "Christ of St. John of the Cross" has captured in an unforgettable way this crucial moment in history.

The heart searching spiritual "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord" arranged by H. T. Burleigh, portrays the suffering of Jesus for the sins of mankind. This was sung by the Choral Group.

Albania May Be Taken From Quarantine List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Albania, a nation sealed against many visitors from the West, may be taken off the State Department's list of nations where travel by Americans is forbidden.

But while the department is pictured as likely to take such action this week, there is no assurance that this will persuade Albania to open its doors.

If the State Department removes Albania from the U.S. quarantine list and the little Balkan country responds by softening its entrance requirements, it will be the last East European Communist nation to yield to the cold war travel thaw.

Albania has been closed to U.S. travelers since 1952.

Soviet Diplomats Deny Abuse Charge

MOSCOW (AP) — One of the two Soviet diplomats expelled from Peking last week denied today a Chinese charge that the Soviet Embassy there had abused and insulted Chinese employees.

The charge "was a provocation. We did nothing wrong," said Second Secretary O. A. Yedanov, head of the embassy's consular section.

Arriving from Peking with Yedanov, Second Secretary N. G. Natashin declined to answer questions at Moscow Airport, saying "I don't feel well." He was perspiring freely and looked ill.

Painted by Holman Hunt has been described by John Ruskin as "one of the very noblest works of sacred art ever produced. It portrays the moment when human destiny hangs in the balance, when God's love patiently waits upon human reluctance."

The hymn, "O Jesus Thou Art Standing" by Froug Schubert, Arr. Earl Rosenberg was sung by the Choral Group.

The painting, "His Presence" by Warner Sallman deserves to be included in any art display on the life of Christ. This picture Him as He must have appeared to His disciples after His resurrection.

The two closing musical presentations portrayed the joy and triumph of this great truth. "He is risen as he said." A vocal solo, "I Know My Redeemer Liveth" from Handel's "Messiah," was sung by Mrs. Donald Barnes.

The Choral Group presented the closing number "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today" arranged by Krone.

The Choral Group was composed of the following members, Mrs. Don R. Anderson, Mrs. Bill Burkholder, Mrs. Don Buller, Mrs. Jack Herndon, Mrs. A. and Mrs. Keith Zahring. Chairmen for the program were Mrs. Roger Martin, Mrs. Richard Leach, and Mrs. Gary Schwartz. The organ used on the program was furnished by the Shaw Music Co. Special acknowledgment was given to the book by Cynthia Maus, "Christ and the Fine Arts" as the source for the interpretation of many of the paintings. Choral director was Mrs. Donald Barnes. Piano accompanist was Mrs. Larry Owen. Organ accompanist was Mrs. James Penn.

Preceding the program, a beautiful memorial service was given to Mrs. E. F. Yancey, former life president of Music Club, and a devoted and dedicated member for many years.

A duet, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Robert Seelen and Mrs. Jack Herndon, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Berthouex.

A dedication was given by Mrs. Gilbert Jones. The 23rd Psalm was given by Mrs. Thelma Cook. Mrs. William Hurlbut, chaplain, gave a prayer.

"On The Resurrection Morning" was sung by Mrs. Robert Seelen, Mrs. C. D. Demand, Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mrs. Jack Herndon, Mrs. M. O. Stevens, and Mrs. Keith Zahring.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. H. Hodges.

Mrs. Jack Herndon gave the history and origin of the hymn for March, "O Sons and Daughters, Let Us Sing." Mrs. Donald Barnes then sang the Hymn.

The following guests were introduced, Mrs. T. H. Yount, Miss Esther Lueking, Mrs. Joe Waddell, Mrs. Clyde Heynen, Mrs. Harry Lindstrom, Mrs. A. Chambers, Mrs. William Johnson, Miss Marian Laudenberger, and Mrs. Don Eldenberg.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special news briefing attended only by newsmen from Communist nations of Eastern Europe has been held by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Such "background" sessions are a common feature of news coverage in Washington. The meeting Friday was the first background session held by a secretary of state exclusively for Washington-based reporters from Communist nations.

The newsmen, about a dozen in all, represented the Soviet Union, Romania, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland. The subject matter included the Vietnam war.

Rusk's visitors said afterward they were highly satisfied with the conference and complimented Rusk for his patience and openness in presenting the American position on various issues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is urging support of his proposals to liberalize Social Security old age benefits so that "1.4 million citizens will be lifted out of poverty in 1968." He lifted out of poverty in 1968.

The President has proposed a 20 per cent over-all increase in the payments to provide at least $150 per couple per month for persons in retirement and $100 for single persons with at least 25 years of coverage.

In a filmed talk Sunday before AFL-CIO rallies in several cities, Johnson said more than five million elderly persons in the United States live in poverty. More than two million are on welfare, he said.

Nearly 40 per cent of the elderly have total assets of less than $1,000, Johnson said. "I believe these conditions are intolerable and unnecessary," he said.

Small Ship Is Loaded With Beer

MANILA (AP) — Once a month a small ship leaves Manila for South Vietnam, loaded the gunwales with beer.

The 1,300-ton San Miguel Brewer has landed nearly four million cans of beer in South Vietnam, and dodged bullets to do so.

"Last month we were delivering beer to the 9th Infantry Division at My Tho and the shells were flying overhead," said Lorenzo Calulo, 38, master of the ship.

"The Viet Cong were on the other side of the river shooting back.

"But no one shoots at us. They know we are the beer ship.

"The other day we were 20 miles up the Mekong River and some U.S. planes sank a sampans about 50 yards from us.

"A U.S. Navy patrol boat picked up about 40 people thought to be Viet Cong and then came alongside and asked if we had any beer. Of course we gave him a couple of cases."

San Miguel Brewery, the owners, believed this is the only ship that carries nothing but beer as cargo. Most of it is consigned to post exchanges.

Cary Grant Still Plays 'Romance'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cary Grant, 63, still plays romantic leads. So do Jimmy Stewart and John Wayne, who in May will be 59 and 60, respectively.

So what has become of Robert Taylor, for decades a heart-throb to women fans and still a middle-aged youngster of only 55?

"You can't have too many mediocre pictures and maintain an extremely high status," said Taylor, sitting on the hearth of a massive stone fireplace in his magnificent ranch home.

Mediocre pictures?

"I've had more than my share," he said candidly. "It's nobody's fault but my own. I 'The Glass Sphinx,' filmed in didn't have to do 'em."

Egypt near the end of 1966, is still unfinished, he said. Will it be seen in this country? "I hope not, although I haven't seen it."

Earlier pictures he "shouldn't have done" included "The Hangman" and "The Killers of Kilimanjaro."

During a record 26-year MGM contract that ended in 1961, Taylor romanced on the screen such beauties as Garbo, Jean Harlow, Ava Gardner, Liz Taylor, Irene Dunne, Joan Crawford, Greer Garson.

On his living room shelves are leather-bound, pencil-marked scripts from his heyday: "Camille," "Magnificent Obsession," "Quo Vadis," "Ivanhoe" and others including his favorite, "Waterloo Bridge."

"Quentin Durward" was a bust, and then we started getting into mediocrity," he said.

Taylor is now host and occasional star of television's "Death Valley Days," seen in its 15th year in 130 U.S. and Canadian cities.

The work is "fun" but totals only 3½ to 4 weeks a year. He replaced Ronald Reagan when his old friend began a successful campaign for California governor.

Politics for Taylor? Lord, no! "I'd rather go huntin' and fishin'."

He lives the contented life of a city-country gentleman on 113 acres in Mandeville Canyon, a pastoral setting only three miles from busy Sunset Boulevard.

His wife, German beauty Ursula Thiess, whose last acting was in a few of his "Detectives" television series in 1960-63, does the housework including laundry. Bob helps with the dishes. Their two handsome children are Terry, 11, a boy, and Tessa, 7.

New ideas in medicine and religion will highlight the evening's program. The Rev. George Sparling, pastor of Wesley Methodist, will bring the members up to date on some of the upheavals in the field of religion in both Catholic and Protestant circles.

Dr. R. H. Owings, clinical pathologist, will discuss advances in cancer research and other recent strides being made in the field of medicine. He is pathologist at Bothwell Hospital. Both speakers will welcome questions from the audience at the conclusion of their presentations.

Majority of Women Giving Money To Beggars Are Fat

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

A majority of the women who give money to street beggars are overweight. Beggars are so aware of this themselves that they rarely even try to whine a hard luck tale to a skinny gal.

The school subject kids seem to dislike most is history—perhaps because they unconsciously realize they'll be making it themselves the rest of their lives.

Judging from the shop talk of housewives, the biggest problem most of them have is not the conduct of their husbands or children but where on earth they can buy a lampshade that will look right in the living room.

After seeing the fans at a professional wrestling exhibition, you are forced to the conclusion that the only intelligent people in the arena are the sweaty gladiators in the ring who are paid to be there.

One of the paradoxes of civilization is this: the less people walk, the higher soar the prices of shoes.

Few things are as wearing to the ears as the fellow who has been 30 years in the big city and still keeps assuring one and all that he's "just a pore li'l country boy."

No small man ever really is quite satisfied with his life until at least one tall girl falls desperately in love with him—and proves it by starting to wear low-heeled shoes.

If Phyllis Diller didn't invent the miniskirt, then who did? She is the one girl in the public eye that the garment would appear to be designed for.

Wigs and hairpieces are now one of the chief status symbols among career girls. The higher paid her job, the more she owns. If you know a career girl with three wigs, you can bet she's earning $10,000 or more a year.

When you see a rich man riding beside his chauffeur in the front seat of his limousine, it's a pretty good sign he's having trouble with his wife and has to have someone to talk to about it.

Guys who keep their folding money in a wallet inside their jackets are usually harder to borrow from than those who carry it wadded up in their pants pocket. On the other hand, they are rarely broke.

Democracy is still safe in America as long as there are more people whom you can please by giving a box of peanut brittle than a jar of caviar.

K.E. CRENSHAW
PRESIDENT

Dear Friends:

Although the primary responsibility of the people of Cities Service Gas Company is to deliver a dependable supply of natural gas to the hundreds of communities and industries along our 7000 mile transmission system . . . we contribute to the area's welfare and progress in other ways. For example:

WE PARTICIPATE. The Company encourages all of its 1200 employees to be active in local civic, cultural and public affairs. As friends and neighbors, we in Cities Service Gas Company are proud to help build and support the communities in which we live.

WE PAY TAXES. The Company pays taxes in every county the system touches and is one of the largest taxpayers in many counties. In 1966 the Company's state and local tax bill was nearly five million dollars. These tax dollars help pay for schools, roads and other essential public services.

WE BUILD. For over 50 years, Cities Service Gas Company has been building to keep pace with the ever increasing demand for natural gas. Each year we spend millions of dollars on new and expanded facilities. Today the Company's total investment is over 250 million dollars . . . an investment that has contributed substantially to the growth and prosperity of the area we serve.

WE SERVE. As a member of your gas industry team — the producer, the pipeline company, and your local gas distribution company — we provide an essential link in bringing you the convenience and economy of natural gas throughout the entire year, regardless of weather.

If you would care to know more about Cities Service Gas Company and the part we play as a corporate citizen in our five-state market area, just address your request for a recent brochure to the Public Relations Department, Cities Service Gas Company, P. O. Box 25128, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73125.

Sincerely,

K.E. Crenshaw

Break Ties With CIA Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild says it has broken ties with international program with international program with funds allegedly supplied by the Central Intelligence Agency.

The newspaper workers' union said it still has no proof, however, that the funds it received actually originated with the nation's spy agency.

In another development, the Columbia Broadcasting System, said Monday night it has refused to carry advertisements for Radio Free Europe since Feb. 15 because the commercials didn't make clear the CIA helped finance the organization.

Radio Free Europe, with headquarters in Munich, Germany, beams news and information programs to Eastern Europe.

The National Broadcasting Corp. said it would continue to carry Radio Free Europe ads so long as they have Advertising Council support.

The president of CBS, Dr. Frank Stanton, is chairman of the executive committee of the Radio Free Europe Fund. He said he took no part in the CBS decision because of this.

The Guild said Feb. 18 it had received more than $1 million for its international affairs program mainly from five foundations which allegedly funneled funds for the CIA.

It named the donors Monday as the Broad-High Foundation of Columbus, Ohio; the Chesapeake Foundation of Baltimore, Md.; the Warden Trust of Cleveland; the Andrew Hamilton Fund of Philadelphia, and the Granary Fund of Boston.

Insurance Company Ordered To Pay

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An insurance company was ordered Monday to pay a widow $100,000 for the death of her husband who was killed in an automobile accident the day his insurance policy was to lapse.

The order was handed down by U.S. District Judge Elmo B. Hunter against the Bankers Life and Casualty Co., of Chicago. Mrs. Mary P. Leary, the widow of Robert Leary, filed suit for the payment. Mrs. Leary lives in Mission Hills, Kan., a Kansas City suburb.

Leary resigned Dec. 17, 1964, from a Jacksonville, Fla., trucking firm. His group insurance policy was to terminate the first day of the month after he left employment.

He was killed at 10:20 a.m., of that day, Jan. 1, 1965. The insurance company refused to pay, contending the policy lapsed one minute after midnight that morning. Judge Hunter disagreed, ruling that the wording of the policy, "shall expire on the first day of the month," meant the entire day.

hearing last week, demanded that the unnamed informant be produced. Judge Bernard Bagert said he would have to rule on that at the preliminary hearing.

He directed that the district attorney have the informant ready to face the accused.

Shaw is the only man named by Garrison as attending the meeting who still lives. Ferrie, 49, an airline pilot fired in 1961 due to arrests on morals charges, died in his apartment Feb. 22 while under investigation.

He had called the investigation a "big joke," scoffing: "They got me pegged as the getaway pilot."

His death was listed as due to natural causes — a massive cerebral hemorrhage caused when high blood pressure broke a weak brain artery.

The district attorney's staff Monday questioned Raymon Cummings, a former Dallas taxi driver who claims he once drove Oswald and Ferrie to Jack Ruby's night club in 1963. To the day of his death, Jan. 3, Ruby, contended he never knew Oswald.

Cummings, accompanied by his lawyer, flew here from Dallas.

Involved was a 1964 Chevrolet coach driven by Mrs. Lucille Sorency, 51, of 804 Colorado, Windsor, and a 1966 Kenworth tractor-trailer driven by Clarence Thompson, 24, of Butler.

According to Trooper Pete Stohr, of the State Highway Patrol, Mrs. Sorency had just pulled off of Highway 127 and turned west on Highway 52. Stohr reported Thompson said he saw the car approach the intersection but failed to stop and pulled out on to Highway 52. He said he endeavored to swing out to miss the car and was unable to avoid the accident.

Trooper Stohr said the large tractor literally jumped upon the rear of the Chevrolet and rode it into the ditch on the south side of the highway. The Chevrolet was demolished and only slight damage resulted to the tractor which was driven from the scene.

Mrs. Sorency received a laceration on the top of her head, and bruises, while her passenger Miss Deloris Chiles, 21, also of 804 Colorado, Windsor, received some bruises.

The Chevrolet was towed to Windsor by the Ferguson wrecker.

Police Reports

Two men are being sought by the police in connection with shoplifting at Mullin's Men's Wear, 307 South Ohio, about 3:55 p.m. Monday. One of the two took two dress suits from a rack and ran from the store, both suits being recovered under a small mail truck on the parking lot just east of the Post Office a short time later.

Don Weller, manager of the store, reported one of the two went to a tie rack and got his attention there while indicating he desired to make a purchase. The other was near the suit rack.

Weller said that when Bob Behen, a salesman, walked over to ask him if he could help him, the man turned and ran through the store, out the front door and then turned east in the alley. He was believed to have doubled back and ran through the Third National Bank parking lot.

Police were called and are conducting an investigation. A description of the two was given the police.

Later police received a call from a woman who reported seeing a slender man throw something under the mail truck and then run back west on Fourth. Police found the two suits under the truck and took them to police headquarters.

Cuba Blamed For Anything, Says Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has struck back at charges that his supporters were responsible for the slaying of Venezuelan lawyer Julio Iribarren Borges.

Castro complained in a three-hour, 18-minute speech Monday night that Cuba was blamed for anything that occurs in Latin America.

"Whatever occurs and wherever it occurs is the responsibility of Cuba," he said sarcastically.

The Cuban leader spoke at Havana University on the 10th anniversary of the attack by his rebel forces on dictator Fulgencio Batista's presidential palace.

Iribarren, brother of the Venezuela foreign minister, was slain near Caracas March 3. Elias Manuitt Camero, identified as head of an antigovernment group in Venezuela, said in a statement in the Cuban Communist party newspaper Granma that "our organization decided to apply revolutionary justice to Iribarren Borges."

Castro contended that Cuba had been accused of the slaying before Manuitt's statement was published.

If Cuba had been directing antigovernment activities in Venezuela, he declared, the antigovernment forces would not have made the tactical errors they have committed. He said they had learned much — not from Cuba, but from their own setbacks.

Nudist Wins His Case

LONDON (AP) — When Lillian Cousins called at Eric Porter's house collecting for charity she got one shilling — 14 cents — and a shock. She said Porter, 55, came to the door "completely naked and gave me a shilling." Mrs. Cousins took Porter to court on an indecency charge and said, "I was so shocked that a lady gave me a glass of brandy." Porter's lawyer won dismissal by pointing out Porter is a nudist and had every right to be naked in his own house.

ground troops could reach the scene, an explosion ripped through the trawler.

Initial reports said she was destroyed, but a small boat from the destroyer Brister carried a landing party to the scene, and it recovered a quantity of uniforms, some small arms in cork packaging and what a Navy spokesman in Saigon described as "considerable contraband."

South Korean marines were moved in to attempt to apprehend the Communist crew but results were not immediately known in Saigon.

Last May and June two large Communist trawlers were intercepted under almost identical circumstances. Both ships yielded a large haul of munitions with Chinese and Russian markings, and U.S. officials made much of this as proof of Hanoi's infiltration of arms into the South.

The heavy series of mortar attacks in the central highlands in the past 48 hours was taken by U.S. officers as another example of Communist infiltration of supplies. They noted that the attacks were concentrated within five miles or so of the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers, across which major Red supply routes run.

U.S. officers also pointed out that the Communists have also been mounting large-scale mortar attacks in recent weeks along the demilitarized zone where the Communist supply lines are also relatively short.

Dead End for Opiate Addicts

Reality is the hardest thing in the world. All of us are constantly bumping up against it from the moment we are born.

A few strong personalities are able to leave an impression on it in the shape of their own image. At the other extreme are those unfortunates who, for various reasons are unable to cope with reality and retreat into a schizophrenic fantasy world. Most of us steer a middle course between the two.

A growing number of people, however, most of them young, are trying something they think is new. They have simply decided they don't like the reality they see around them and, with the help of certain "mind-manifesting" drugs, are exploring a new reality inside their heads.

This private reality, say the prophets of LSD, is more real, more beautiful more meaningful than the everyday reality the rest of us clods are stuck with. They are in touch, they say, with the fundamental truths of the universe.

But the reality that most of us know remains as hard as it ever was, and it exacts a price from those who try to dismiss it with a chemical. A youth under the influence of LSD may think he is a bird, but when he dives out of a window he gets killed as definitely and as finally as anyone else.

Anyone who has ever suffered a blow on the head has experienced a taste of this "new reality." The pattern of lights and colors was out of this world—but the lingering pain was very much in it.

The fever delirium generated by the pneumobacillus is also capable of distorting familiar things and giving us an insight into "universal truths." Many people who have been given either before an operation have had profound mystical experiences—or so it seemed at the time.

None of these methods is recommended for personality development, however. Neither is LSD, marijuana or, for that matter, tranquilizers or any other depressant or stimulant used to excess.

All of them are, in fact, only escapes from the world of harsh reality—escapes that sooner or later lead to dead ends. More than that, they are denials of everything that makes human beings what they are—the ability to communicate with one another, to share, to work together to change the world of reality into something closer to the heart's desire.

Bolivian Indians Greet Justice Warren

Castro Assassination

On Jan. 15 Drew Pearson reported from Caracas: "Despite our efforts to freeze out Castro, he still remains the No. 1 problem for the United States in the Caribbean." Pearson gave details regarding terrorism in Venezuela and said this would be a continuing problem.

On March 3 the brother of the Venezuelan foreign minister was found murdered in a ditch outside Caracas.

By DREW PEARSON

SUCRE, BOLIVIA—Thousands of Indians swarmed through the narrow streets of Sucre. The hills were steep, the altitude high, the cobblestones rough. But the Indians ran as fast as the motor caravan carrying Chief Justice Earl Warren. Sometimes, as his caravan slowed down, the Indians ran faster than the cars.

Dressed in rough, homespun woolsens and wearing thick, broad-brimmed hats made of llama hair, they thronged the public square to greet the Chief Justice of the United States.

This was the first time in history that so important an American had come to that distant part of Bolivia, and the Indians stood patiently as the Chief Justice spoke from a balcony of the ancient city hall built in the days when Spain reigned supreme over the South American continent. He spoke in English, and the Indians waited until Ambassador Douglas Henderson translated his words into their native Quechua; for 50 per cent of the Indians in Bolivia do not speak Spanish.

Later in the afternoon, Chief Justice Warren spoke at a session of the Bolivian Supreme Court. In most South American countries, Supreme Courts do not have the standing of the U. S. Supreme Court. The courts are not fully independent of the executive. President Barrientos, for instance, sat during the Sucre ceremony on the bench alongside the justices, something which could not happen in the United States.

When President Eisenhower came up to the Supreme Court to witness the swearing in of newly appointed justices, in contrast, he was given a seat in the audience, not on the bench.

But the fact that Chief Justice Warren made the long trip to mountainous Bolivia to visit that country's Supreme Court, gave new prestige to its judicial system, in fact helped strengthen the courts throughout Latin America as a bulwark against dictatorship and military revolt.

Warren's Words

"Brothers of the Supreme Court of Bolivia," said the Chief Justice, as he was introduced. "You spoke warmly of me and the United States Constitution. I should like to say just a few words about this great document."

"It is a great document indeed. It has preserved democracy in the United States. But I should stress the fact that it is not an original document. It embodies words as old as civilization itself."

"In the Supreme Court of the United States, as you enter, there are the names of distinguished lawyers emblazoned on the wall—Hammurabi, Moses, Solomon, Solon, Lycurgus, Augustus, Justinian, Mohammedd Charlemagne, St. Louis the King of France, Blackstone. Only one American is on our wall—John Marshall, probably our greatest Chief Justice."

"These are symbols which remind us every day that we must remain humble and realize that these ideas belong to a civilization of which both you and we are parts."

"Both of us are agreed that democracy is not a theoretical thing," Chief Justice Warren told his Bolivian colleagues. "It is a very way of life."

"We talk about the fact that laws and the constitution of any country are strong only insofar as they live in the hearts of the people and their leaders," he continued. "Yesterday, when I met your President, I realized that respect for law and freedom lives in his heart."

Peace Through Law

"Again today when I saw the people cheering, I came to realize that the Bolivian people and their President are one in their support of freedom and liberty. We must remember that every month new countries are coming into being and that some countries have no universities, no judges, no courts established according to the standards of our civilization."

The Chief Justice continued with his theme that peace through law must be established in the world and that this is the way to build justice in the underdeveloped countries.

All through the West Coast of Latin America, Chief Justice Warren carried his kindly words of advice on building democracy and peace through law. It was what Madison Avenue would call a "soft sell." He did not orate or pontificate. He did not push his brand of justice down Latin American throats. He explained, answered questions, listened.

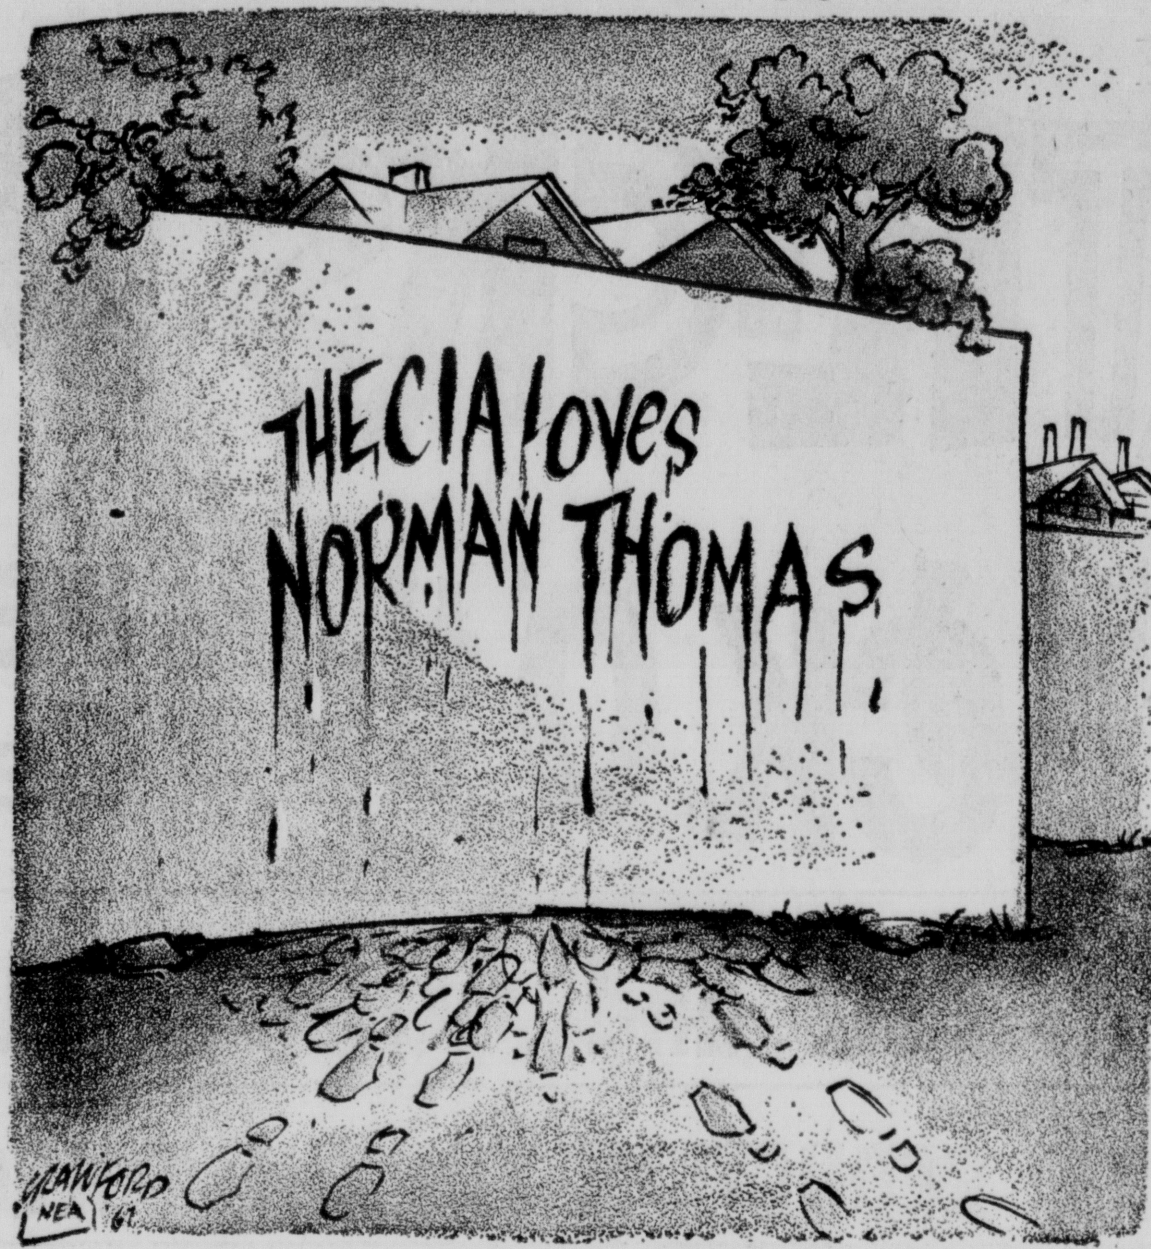

In La Paz the altitude is 11,800 feet, highest modern city in the world. In Quito it's a little lower, 8,400 feet, but still enough to take your breath. Bogota is 8,660.

The Chief Justice took all these altitudes as if he were a native Indian. He was up late at judicial receptions, arose at five and six to travel the next day.

From near Quito he drove out into the Ecuadorian countryside with Galo Plaza, ex-President of Ecuador, to stand on the equator. There, in latitude 000-000-000, he stood with one foot in the Southern hemisphere, one foot in the Northern hemisphere, and to please Ecuadorian photographers had his picture taken eating the No. 1 Ecuadorian fruit, the banana!

Many U. S. presidents have journeyed through Latin America, from Herbert Hoover on the battleships Utah and Maryland, to John F. Kennedy on a giant jet. But no top American has moved so humbly, yet with such impact as the Chief Justice of the United States.

Time Has Quieting Effect On Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The changing times have had a quieting effect on Congress. There is still just as much noise from the Capitol. But it's a different kind of noise.

And, just because it is, President Johnson doesn't get the same kind of lashing that was inflicted on President Harry S. Truman. One reason, of course, is that the cast of characters in Congress has changed.

But that's only a minor part of the reason. The attitude in the country is different.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal ended in 1938 with the passage of the minimum wage law. From then on Roosevelt and the country put all their resources into getting ready for a war and then fighting it.

On Sept. 2, 1945 Japan formally surrendered and four days later Truman sent a message to Congress. He had the tremendous task of reconverting the country to peace. He never forgot that day, as he made clear in his memoirs.

"It was on that day," he wrote, "and with that message that I first spelled out the details of the program of liberalism and progressivism which was to be the foundation of my administration."

He wanted to carry on with the unfinished New Deal and asked Congress for extension of Social Security, an increase in the minimum wage, national health insurance (now medicare), continued war against slums, new regional developments like the TVA, a full employment bill, and continuance of wartime economic controls.

But at that time Congress in both houses was mostly dominated by a coalition of conservative Republicans, led by Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Southern Democrats.

Taft, more than any one man, was Truman's constant critic. There was such unbroken uproar and opposition to Truman that the Democrats lost control of Congress to the Republicans in 1946.

Bit by bit Truman got some of his proposals through but Congress took one momentous step. It wouldn't give him a "full employment act" but it gave him an Employment Act in 1946.

In that act, for the first time in American history, Congress said the federal government had a responsibility for the general welfare. All the progressive social legislation which followed in the years since then can be considered a natural consequence of both the nation's needs and the responsibility the government had to assume as a result of that act of 1946.

And right here is the dividing line in the difference between the treatment Truman got from Congress and the treatment Johnson gets.

With Truman the nation was shaking off its historic and extreme conservatism—although not quite, as the right wing in this country today can testify. But social and welfare legislation, starting with Truman after the war, gradually came to be regarded as a national need, not a wild-eyed dream.

Nothing shows that better than the record of the 89th Congress in 1965. It approved Johnson's "Great Society" programs by the bundle, the greatest production performance in American history.

These are just a few of the programs it approved: a health program for the elderly, easier registration for Negroes wanting to vote, aid for education, improved Social Security benefits, rent subsidies for low-income families.

While Johnson's "Great Society" is simply an extension of Roosevelt's New Deal and Truman's Fair Deal, the country and Congress now have come to consider social welfare legislation as natural and necessary.

This is why Johnson doesn't get from Congress the beating Truman had to take on domestic needs. Ironically, Johnson's main criticism in Congress—on the war in Vietnam—comes not from the Republican leaders, who support him, but from some of his own Democrats.

Boys Choir Congress

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The 11th annual International Congress of Boys Religious Choirs will be held in Rome July 4-9 with 100,000 boys expected to participate. The Vatican announced. The congress will be part of "year of faith" celebrations announced last month by Pope Paul VI.

the tournament starts the hours run from 8 a. m. to 8 a. m.

Chairman for the Seattle tournament will be Evelyn Piro who has already served the league as a member of the board and co-chairman of the National Good Will Committee.

Here is a hand which Evelyn defended a few years ago.

South ducked the first heart and won the continuation. There were any number of ways to play the hand. He could bang the king and ace of diamonds and if that failed to drop the queen he could go after the club suit. Or he could play his king of diamonds and then finesse dummy's jack.

South decided on a third line of play. Mrs. Piro was sitting East and as South remarked later on: "She looked like a lady who would take the queen of diamonds if she got a chance to do so."

South led the ten of diamonds and let it ride! If Evelyn had taken her queen, South would have made at least four no-trump but Evelyn simply dropped her deuce. Her reasoning was that if South held king-ten-small he would have played the king first. If he held ten-small her play of the queen would allow him to bring home the rest of the diamond suit, and finally, South just might hold the exact hand he did hold.

South struggled along but could only collect a total of seven tricks for a most unsatisfactory score, down two.

THE WELL CHILD

Treat Diabetic Child With Minimum Fuss

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(First of two related columns)

Although diabetes in childhood is believed to be hereditary, it may appear in children who have no family history of the disease. It may be brought to the attention of the doctor because the child fails to gain weight in spite of a healthy appetite or because a toilet-trained child starts wetting the bed at night.

Once the diagnosis is made the parents are often more upset emotionally than the child. The rigid supervision of the child's diet, urine testing and daily injections of insulin are tasks that a mother assumes with a heavy heart. It is extremely important, however, that she accomplish these chores with outward calm and a minimum of fuss. Too harsh an attitude or, at the other extreme, doting indulgence will only make it harder for the child to adjust to the procedures that are so essential to his continued health.

Here are some of the ways you can help your diabetic child. First, learn as much about the disease as you can. To this end you can get valuable help from the American Diabetic Association (18 East 48th Street, New York N. Y. 10017).

You should avoid bribing, cajoling or intimidating your child to get him to accept his treatment, painful as it may be. Above all don't make the rest of the family conform to the dietary or other restrictions applied to the diabetic. Each child must be treated as a respected individual with understanding of his own particular problems.

One of the characteristics of juvenile diabetes is that two or three months after treatment has been started the child may appear to be cured. The symptoms disappear and the insulin dosage may have to be cut or completely stopped. Don't let this brief remission—for that is what it is—fool you. Diabetes can be controlled but not cured, so you must be alert for signs of its permanent return.

There is another source of confusion in dealing with this disease. Vomiting and headache may be caused by acidosis for which more insulin is required or by the opposite, an insulin reaction. Sugar must be given in either case but more insulin only for the former. Prompt and proper treatment is required. The dilemma is solved by testing a urine specimen if you can get one and calling your doctor.

The sooner you can teach your child to test his own urine the better. A five-year-old child can learn this procedure and by the time he is eight or nine he should be able to give his own insulin shots. At 13 he should be able to take complete charge of the management of his disease.

Jets of Economic Pressure Not Accurate As Desired

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The little jets of economic pressure that the new economists now use to tilt our high-flying economy into the proper orbit are nowhere near as accurate or as uncomplicated as desired.

In the realm of physics it is possible to apply a specific pressure to obtain a nearly exact result. In economics the results are seldom certain, for the environment changes. There are always complications.

This uncertainty over results is involved now in opposition to the Johnson administration's proposal to place a 6 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes later this year.

The administration feels this surtax may be needed to slow an economy that might have too much thrust behind it. Such a tax also might raise money to reduce the budget deficit. Or would it? The answer is disputed.

Some say that rather than skimming the froth off the top of the economic wave, a tax increase could, instead, submerge the operation. That is, instead of bringing in enough money to close the budget gap it could lessen economic activity, shrink the tax base and thus produce less revenue.

This is one of the complex problems that economic advisers must puzzle with these days. There are only rough estimates in economic projection. Nevertheless, the new economics calls for activity rather than passivity, prevention rather than cure, action rather than reaction.

Just last week the administration reopened one of the jets it had turned off last year—the investment tax credit that permits industry to deduct 7 per cent of the cost of plant expansion from income taxes.

At the time of suspension last year the economy was overheated from spending, and economists decided a little less thrust was needed. The tax credit, by encouraging spending, was adding thrust, the administration argued. It was contributing to inflation. Or was it?

Some businessmen, especially those in the steel industry, still maintain that suspension of the tax credit last year could have been inflationary rather than deflationary.

Their argument is that spending for new plants and equipment increases the productive capacity of the nation, enables goods to be made more abundantly to meet demand and more efficiently to keep prices low.

But, as elsewhere in the economy, this is still in dispute. Perhaps to cut capital spending might be deflationary over the short term and inflationary over the long term. It is now the grist for argument.

Consider also the administration's desire to lower interest rates from their sky-high levels of last year when some reached a 40-year peak. Eventually one of the administration's own policies could get in the way.

That obstacle might be the balance of payments situation. The administration must plug the dollar drain. One way to do so is to encourage foreign investments here. But, will we attract this money if interest rates are higher elsewhere?

Again, in making plans for its super bond, or freedom share, the government wished to make it as attractive as possible to buyers. How could this be done? By high interest, say 5 per cent as authorized.

The savings bond people settled, however, on 4.74 per cent for the new bond. If it had gone to 5 per cent money would have been drawn from the savings and loan industry and perhaps have further unsettled the shaky foundations of housing.

Girl Dies Three Months After Surgery

TORONTO (AP) — Allyson Burleson of San Jose, Calif., the 5-year-old who came to Toronto to "play in the snow and have my heart fixed," died Monday in the Hospital for Sick Children three months after her operation.

Her father, George Burleson, 32, and her mother, Frances, 30, were with her when she died.

A news conference was called today to discuss the failure of the operation, which transposed Allyson's aorta and the pulmonary artery so her body would get the oxygen it needed.

Allyson was a blue baby. Her condition was diagnosed when she was two months old but at that time doctors knew no corrective surgery. In 1963, Dr. William T. Mustard of Toronto worked out the surgical technique.

Allyson at 5 was considered the best physical condition to undergo the operation, which lasted nearly seven hours.

After the surgery, the child was given a 50-to-80 per cent chance to live. Her progress was good for a few days. Then her appetite failed.

Mrs. Burleson stayed with her daughter throughout her fight for life. Burleson, a U.S. Navy electrician's mate, returned to San Jose to look after their four other young children, and flew to Toronto frequently on weekends.

Hospital authorities said the parents returned to California Monday night. Allyson's body will be sent to San Jose for burial.

LONDON (AP) — The government of the Mediterranean island of Malta has agreed to a reduction of British troops stationed there after Britain agreed to keep the rate of withdrawal at an "economically tolerable level."

Britain recently announced it planned to cut 3,000 men from its 4,500-man garrison on Malta as an economy move. The Maltese feared a sudden withdrawal would cause mass unemployment among the 6,000 Maltese employed at the British base.

LONDON (AP) — Mansell Information-Publishing Ltd. of Britain announced today it has won a $12-million contract from the American Library Association to print "the biggest book to be published since the invention of printing."

The book will contain the national union catalog of the United States, which is contained now on 16-million index cards at the Library of Congress in Washington. The book will run to 610 volumes, each of 704 pages, and will weigh 1½ tons when finished in about 10 years. A complete set will cost between $8,000 and $9,000.

The Library of Congress cards list details of every book held by more than 2,000 major libraries in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

A spokesman for the publishers said they expect to sell at least 1,500 volumes.

MENTON, France (AP) — Count Arnold Maurice Bendern says "The Flute Player," a painting by Franz Hals which he values at $350,000, is missing from a collection he sent to a Swiss bank.

First Lady Says Many Are In Need

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The nation's First Lady found educational programs for needy families in need themselves as she continued her "educational field trip" in Appalachia.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson heads 70 miles by bus to an isolated mountain hamlet in Canada Township today to see the work of Teacher Corps volunteers whose nationwide effort in poverty-stricken areas may end June 30 unless Congress comes up with more money.

Monday night, in Charleston, W.Va., she ate dinner with grade school youngsters and their parents who were sadly ending a two-nights-a-week family-enrichment program of evening classes because their $8,000 in federal money has run out.

"We would like it to run longer," said Principal Violet Johnson. "Working with the disadvantaged is a slow process. It takes lots of time."

After two years, Glenwood Elementary School is closing this after-hours project, still hoping to get another allocation of funds for the next fiscal year.

The President's wife joined parents and youngsters for a dinner that included chicken casserole, mashed potatoes, green beans, salad, pineapple cake and beverage. The meal was free to those who couldn't afford the 35-cent fee.

A talkative second-grader, Jimmy Hildreth, 8, who got one of the seats of honor next to the President's wife, looked Mrs. Johnson over and commented: "You all must be rich."

Mrs. Johnson said she replied: "I would say that we are well off, but that my husband has been working hard since he was 18."

Two nights a week about 100 Glenwood area youngsters came with their parents to have dinner in the gym with local entertainment while they eat. Monday night there were youthful madrigal singers, a clown act, a women's Job Corps chorus and a father-daughter dance team.

Ex-Soldier Says Fast Was To Protest War

KANSAS CITY (AP) — His 96-hour fast, said Bob Levy, discharged from the Army and back home, was essentially a protest against war.

"We all have the same goal, of no more war; we just disagree on the methods." The 22-year-old former soldier, whose hunger strike at Ft. Lewis, Wash., won him an honorable military discharge last week, commented in an interview here Monday.

"I saw it as a strong method of emphasizing my sincerity. My goal was to get out of the Army. I did it as a public act, or if they were just blindly following, to awaken in persons who thought similarly some sort of resistance."

Levy said he had no quarrel with "a soldier who honestly believes what he is doing is correct," but added: "I would never be able to do what a soldier must do — kill."

"I know I don't have the complete answer. I wish I could give an alternative to the idea of violence in settling conflicts, but I can't."

Afternoon Wedding Unites Sue Ehret, William F. Bryan

Mrs. William F. Bryan

Miss Sue Ehret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Ehret, Kansas City, became the bride of Mr. William F. Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnett F. Bryan, Sedalia, on January 23 at the Gashland United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Paul D. Votaw performed the afternoon ceremony. The bride chose a gown of white Alencon lace styled with an Empire bodice fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapered lace sleeves. The sheath skirt of crepe was highlighted by a detachable square train bordered with crepe and bows at the shoulders and drifted into chapel length. Her bouffant lace edged veil was secured by a crown of lace sparkled with pearls and crystals and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias and carnations.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Alicia Rogers, Kansas City, and bridesmaids were Miss Vickie Hickerson and Miss Holly Sievers, also of Kansas City. The attendants wore floor length gowns of emerald chiffon over taffeta styled with Venise lace accenting the natural waistlines and featured scoop necklines and Dior lace edged sleeves. The soft bell skirts were highlighted at the back by a panel from the waist topped

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony.

Driver Killed In Car-Truck Accident

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A car-truck collision on an Interstate highway 70 service road in the St. Louis suburb of St. Ann resulted in death for the driver of the auto and injuries to a passenger Monday night.

The Highway Patrol said the victim was Robert Luck, 19, of Woodson Terrace, another St. Louis suburb. His passenger was admitted to St. Louis County Hospital.

Troopers said the driver of the truck was uninjured in the collision which occurred when the car went out of control on a curve.

Top Ranking AP Teams To Finals

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Four of the Associated Press' top-ranked college teams head into the final stages of the NCAA college division basketball tournament Wednesday.

The opening round in spacious Roberts Stadium includes:

2:30 p.m. EST — Long Island (28-1) vs. Winston-Salem State (28-1); 3:30 p.m. — San Diego State (26-4) vs. Illinois State (17-11); 7 p.m. — Southwest Missouri State (21-4) vs. Valparaiso (21-7); 9 p.m. — Cheyney State (27-2) vs. Kentucky Wesleyan (23-3).

Semifinals are Thursday night and the championship game Friday night.

Ranked teams are No. 2 Kentucky Wesleyan, the defending champion; No. 4 Cheyney State, No. 5 San Diego State and No. 9 Southwest-Missouri.

The Winston-Salem Rams, with the best record in the field, are led by Little All-America senior Earl Monroe, who topped the nation's scorers this season with a 43-point average. He hit 62.4 per cent of his floor shots and 80.7 per cent from the line.

Monroe needs 20 points to break the season scoring record of 1,255 set in 1954 by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande.

Another Little All-America in the tourney is senior Sam Smith of Kentucky Wesleyan, voted the tourney's most valuable player at Evansville last year. He tops the Panthers' attack with a 17.3 average. Balanced scoring punch comes from teammates Dallas Thornton, 15.9; George Tinsley, 15.3 and Roger Cordell, 15.2.

Long Island Blackbirds are geared by senior Barry Leibowitz with a 15.7 average and a 6-6 sophomore, Luther Green, with 15.6.

The Cheyney Wolves are nursing an 11-game winning streak and are making the Evansville trip for the first time after being knocked out in regional action twice. They have five players hitting in doubles, led by senior Tom Washington with 22.1. They also boast the tallest players in the tourney, 6-11 Harold Booker, with a 13.6 average.

The Southwest Missouri Bears defeated the nation's two top scoring teams to reach Evansville, Arkansas A.M. & N. and Lincoln, Mo. Dan Bolden, with 19.0, and Jim Gummarsbach, 15.2, are the Bears' big guns.

Dick Jones with 22.8 and Vern Curtis 19.6 give the Valparaiso Crusaders their punch.

The San Diego Aztecs will be without their No. 1 scorer, ineligible Bob Lundgren, but there are five others averaging 9.5 or better, headed by 6-7 Al Skalecky with 14.2 and a 13.5 rebound average.

The Illinois State Redbirds are Cinderellas and never had won an NCAA tourney game until taking the Midwest Regional on their home floor. No starter stands more than 6-4. Jerry McGreal with 18.1 and Steve Arends with 15.6 are among four players averaging better than 13 points.

Intercepted Pass Leads To Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Bridges gave the Boston Celtics a tip — one they could have done without.

The Celtics were leading by one point at Memphis, Tenn., with two seconds left Monday night when Bridges tipped in Joe Caldwell's missed shot to give St. Louis a 123-122 victory.

Caldwell then intercepted a Boston pass to clinch the victory, which moved the Hawks two games ahead of Los Angeles in the battle for second place in the Western Division. Each team has three games remaining.

Bridges' basket capped a spurt of seven straight points by the Hawks, who trailed by 16 at halftime and by 13 after three periods. Bridges and Len Wilkens each scored 23 for St. Louis. Bailey Howell got 24 and Wayne Embry 21 for Boston.

Cincinnati moved into a second-place tie with idle New York in the East by beating the Bulls 133-117 at Chicago as Oscar Robertson hit 14 of 18 shots from the field and all 15 of his free throws for 33 points. The Royals and New York also each have three games left.

Adrian Smith contributed 21 points for the Cincinnati attack, while Bob Boozer led Chicago with 29.

At San Francisco, the Warriors whipped the Detroit Pistons 135-109 as Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer, collected 29 points. The Pistons remained tied with Chicago for fourth place in the Western Division, the final playoff position. Each team has four games left.

With Al Attles' brilliant ball handling and tight defense and Nate Thurmond controlling the backboards, the Western Division champions opened a 61-49

Put Seniors Into 'Hat' For Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 445 college seniors went into the "hat" today to be picked in the first combined draft of the National and American football leagues.

But this type of picking isn't done at random. A lot of thought goes into it.

And because it is serious business, the 17 rounds were expected to last at least two days.

Baltimore was to be the first of the 25 teams to pick, with the Minnesota Vikings to follow. Baltimore was picking in place of the new New Orleans Saints and Minnesota had the New York Giants' choice because of trade.

Since Baltimore got the first pick by trading quarterback Gary Cuozzo to New Orleans, the Colts need a backup quarterback for Johnny Unitas. Therefore, the Colts were likely to choose Steve Spurrier of Florida, the Heisman Trophy winner, or Bob Griese of Purdue, the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player.

Minnesota reportedly was considering defensive end Bubba Smith of Michigan State and halfback Harry Jones of Arkansas.

Others expected to be picked early included linebackers George Webster of Michigan State and Jim Lynch of Notre Dame, fullback Ray McDonald of Idaho, defensive tackle Lloyd Phillips of Arkansas, and defensive backs Tom Beier of Miami of Florida and John Charles of Purdue.

New Orleans, the newest NFL franchise, was to pick the most players, 35, followed by Green Bay, 24, and Baltimore, Buffalo, Houston and Philadelphia, 21 each.

New Orleans originally was to get 37 choices, but the Saints traded away two of them, including the No. 1 pick to Baltimore. World Champion Green Bay got its high number through trades.

Eighty-five of the top college players of 1966 were drafted as futures, or redshirts, in 1965.

Some of these already have signed, such as Notre Dame halfback Nick Eddy, by Detroit; Georgia tackle George Patton, by Atlanta; Alabama end Ray Perkins, by Baltimore; and Southern California flanker Rod Sherman, by Baltimore.

Starting with this year there no longer will be a future draft. Under a new rule agreed on by the two leagues, any player who does not complete his college eligibility may not be drafted until five football seasons have elapsed from the time he first entered a recognized college or university.

Unique Main Feature

Heavyweights, Girls To Be Wrestling Features

What promises to be an exciting, action-filled wrestling card is set tonight at Convention Hall. Both sturdy heavyweights and girl wrestlers will be on the program, with matches scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

Unique about the main feature will be the lineup of three heavyweights to a side — three of them among the roughest wrestlers on the area scene.

Making up that powerful threesome are the Pear, Plum and Guillotine Gordon. Each goes 240 pounds or better and all have had success in roughing action here this season.

Figuring to give them a solid battle from starting bell to last are Sonny Myers, Lee Henning and Victor Rivera — a talented, aggressive trio that has size, speed and experience in its favor.

Gordon is still smarting from his last set-to with Myers and a d will be vengeance bound. Myers showed up the hard-hitting North Carolinian in recent title action and Guillotine is anxious to lock the Missourian in one of his punishing holds.

There'll also be a two-girl battle royal. Betty Niccoli and Jean Antone, old hands at the rough and tumble, will collide under rather unusual rules.

Seats will be moved back from ringside to assure the gals plenty of room for their skirmishes. Whether a fall is recorded in side or outside the ropes it will be counted.

To keep control of what is expected to be a wild and woolly affair, two referees will be assigned to handle the action.

Single matches pit Myers and Gordon, Rivera and the Plum.

Lock On Individual NBA Races

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry, Wilt Chamberlain, Adrian Smith and Guy Rodgers have a lock on the National Basketball Association's individual races as the 1966-67 season draws to a close.

Barry, San Francisco's second-year flash, takes a commanding 317-point lead over runner-up Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati into the final week of the campaign and appears certain to end Chamberlain's eight-year scoring reign.

The Warriors' forward had 2,607 points, a 36.2 per-game average, through last Sunday's games, according to official NBA statistics released today.

Chamberlain is on the way to an all-time record in field goal percentage and also will lead the rebounders again. The Philadelphia pivotman's .684 floor percentage is well above his .536 mark of a year ago while his 1,854 rebounds tops Boston player-coach Bill Russell by over 200.

Barring a collapse from the foul line, Cincinnati's Smith will take the free throw-shooting title. His .899 mark is superior to the .883 figure compiled by the 1965-66 leader, Larry Siegfried of Boston.

Rodgers, Chicago's 6-foot buckcourt wizard, has the play-making crown — worn by Robertson for the past three seasons — wrapped up. The Bulls' floor general is averaging 11.3 assists per-contest, compared to 10.6 for the Big O.

Lincoln, a standout at Washington State, has spent his six-year pro career with the Chargers and was named to the AFL's All-League team in 1964 and 1965. He is 6-foot-1 and weighs 212.

His relations with Chargers' Coach Sid Gillman occasionally became strained, however, and two years ago Lincoln said he'd rather play in Buffalo than San Diego. Gillman told him of the trade by telephone Monday.

At his home in Pullman, Wash., Lincoln expressed delight at the news, saying:

"I think it is a compliment to be traded to Buffalo due to the fact I'm a running back, and they have two fine running backs — Wray Carlton and Bobby Burnett.

"There's trouble at San Diego, and I'm leaving a team that's down, to go with a winner."

Day, at 6-foot-2 and 262 pounds, was an integral part of the Bills' tough defense. That stubbornness was a key factor in Buffalo's ability to gain two league championships and three Eastern Division titles in the last three years.

Day joined Buffalo in 1961 after a year with the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals that followed a college career at North Carolina A&T. He makes his home in Buffalo.

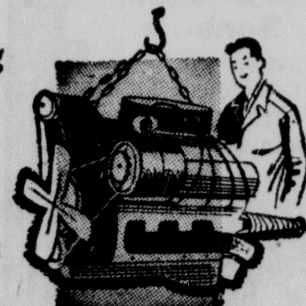

"I was surprised, well, sort of surprised," he said after the player swap was announced. "And I can't say I'm happy about it, because I'm not. I have a lot of roots here."

Pull Victories Out of the Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Top-seeded St. Benedict's of Kansas and defending champion Oklahoma Baptist, seeded No. 3, pulled victories out of the fire in the closing minutes against upset-minded foes Monday night in the NAIA basketball tournament first round.

Only one of eight seeded teams was beaten Monday. Millersville, Pa., State, No. 13, was soundly beaten by Chadron, Neb., State 83-66 in the closing game.

Eight more first round games are scheduled for today and tonight in the 32-team, six-day meet. Second-seeded Eastern New Mexico, 22-6, faces Kansas City Rockhurst, 18-10, at 8:45 p.m., CST.

St. Benedict's trailed Linfield, Ore., 70-68 with five minutes left, then Darryl Jones, Vince DeGreeff and Greg Glor took turns pulling it out. Jones tied it, then DeGreeff fought for two close-in goals, the second after a Jones steal, making it 74-70.

When Linfield pulled up 74-73, Glor iced it with four points.

DeGreeff, only 6-foot-3 in the pivot, scored 29 and got 18 rebounds. St. Benedict's, 23-2, ran its winning streak to 15 games.

Oklahoma Baptist was surprised when Alcorn A.M., a run-and-gun club with a 91.8 season scoring average, played a zone defense and slowed the game to a walk. OBU, which usually bombs zones with ease, had trouble this time and trailed 48-44 with six minutes left, but won it 55-52.

Al Tucker, a mobile 6-8 thin man who is an excellent dribbler and passer, led the defending champs with 28 points.

Doug Williams, a 6-9 sophomore, scored 18 points in leading 8th-seeded St. Mary's of Texas past Wartburg of Iowa

Big Eight Attendance Third Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Eight basketball championship Kansas had an average attendance of 12,591 fans, third best in league history in the season just ended, and Kansas State 11,227. The conference average of 6,491 for 86 home basketball games is the second best in league history.

The conference average was 91 a game above last year and second only to the 6,911 for 70 home games in 1957 — Wilt Chamberlain's first year at Kansas.

The Kansas total of 138,500 for 11 home games was second best in conference annals and the Jayhawk average, up 161 over last year, ranks only behind the record 15,500 in 1957 and 12,944 in 1958 for 9 games.

K-State increased its average 18 a game over last year, but failed to lead the league in attendance for only the fourth time since Ahearn fieldhouse was opened 17 years ago.

Nebraska's average of 6,570 missed the school record of 6,835 set a year ago. Iowa State's 6,500 was 500 under the school mark set in 1966. Missouri, despite a last-place finish, was up 515 to 3,215. Colorado also was up 53 to a 4,965 average. Oklahoma State gained 12 a game to 3,620 and Oklahoma dropped 226 to a 2,983 average.

The league total of 558,253 was just under the record 563,230 for two more games last season.

59-56 in the other evening game.

In the day games, Southwest Louisiana, No. 7, whipped Findlay, Ohio, 110-73 as seven men scored in double figures: Guilford, N.C., No. 11, got 33 points from 6-8 Bob Kauffman and beat Boston State 70-61; 12th-seeded Midwestern, Tex., got 26 from Earl Beechum and beat Dickinson, N.D., 96-77; and 4th-seeded Morris Harvey, W. Va., with Jim Hayes scoring 32, whipped Howard Payne, Tex., 103-85. Here are the other first round games today:

Eastern Montana vs. Southern State, Ark., No. 16, at 9:30 a.m.; Central Washington, No. 6, vs. Trenton State, N.J., 11:15 a.m.; Central Michigan, No. 10, vs. Albany State, Ga., 1 p.m.; Tennessee Wesleyan, No. 5, vs. Indiana Central, 2:45; Westminster, Pa., No. 9 vs. Oskosh, Wis., State, 5:15; Valdosta State, Ga., No. 14 vs. Quincy, Ill., 7; St. Thomas, Minn., No. 15 vs. Claremont-Mudd, Calif., 10:30.

No Answer To Problem Of Successor

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Neloj had a problem today and he readily admitted he didn't have the answer. What happened to Successor?

"I'm in just as much of a quandry as you are," said the popular trainer as he talked of the fourth-place finish of the 1966 2-year-old champion and future book favorite for the Kentucky Derby in the six furlongs of the $27,200 Swift Stakes at the opening of Aqueduct Monday.

"He just didn't run and I'll admit I was very disappointed," he added. "He cooled out in the shape with no signs of any aches or pains."

Neloj, who won a record $2.5 million last year with the runners owned by the Phipps family, managed to smile, however, as he added:

"One swallow doesn't make a spring. Even Buckpasser was beaten."

Successor, making his 3-year-old debut after prepping in Florida following a year in which he won $441,404 and never was out of the money in nine starts, figured to have five rivals at his mercy in the Swift.

Instead he never was in serious contention as Solo Landing, owned and trained by Guy H. Burt, romped home the winner by 5½ lengths for his fifth straight victory extending back to last December.

The Neloj-trained son of Bold Ruler, owned by Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, trailed by nearly eight lengths as Sun Gala and Flying Tackle followed Solo Landing across the finish line.

The time of 1:09 2/5 was one-fifth second faster than the stakes record but neither Neloj nor jockey Braulio Baeza could find any alibi in that fact.

Cubs Not About To Change Plan To Rely On Youths

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — "Youngsters were our plan for last year and they're our plan for this year and we're not about to change it. We're not going to jump out of the boat now."

Leo Durocher, at 60 and in the second campaign of his three-year contract managing the Chicago Cubs, added, "We've got several kids just an inch away from greatness and they could come right now."

Under Durocher, the Cubs finished dead last in the National League as he stuck with the youth brigade. Surprisingly, although he won't admit it, the fiery skipper has almost a set club for 1967.

But will the inexperienced pitchers come through?

Ron Santo, the captain and All-Star third baseman, thinks they can and will.

"We have more real good hard throwers than I've ever seen in our camp," says Santo, who pounded 30 home runs and led the team in batting at .312.

Right-hander Ray Culp, 7-4 at Philadelphia last year, joins the staff in exchange for southpaw Dick Ellsworth. Left-hander Ken Holtzman, just 21, led the club in victories last year (11) when he was only a parttime performer the first two months while attending college.

Ferguson Jenkins, 23, came to the Cubs last April 21. Until August, he worked in relief, then Chicago won six of the nine games he started.

Rich Nye, a 6-foot 4-inch left-hander, could win a spot on the pitching corps even though he has less than a season in pro ball.

Nye was 7-4 in the minors before joining the Cubs. His Chicago record of 0-2 is deceiving since he had a 2.12 earned-run average and the Cubs failed to score in any of the three games he pitched.

Joe Niekro, Jon Robisch and Dean Burk aren't on the major league roster, but one or more might stock.

Bullpen support comes from Bill Hands, Bob Hendley, Cal Koonce and perhaps the aging Curt Simmons. There may be a starter in that group.

Glenn Beckert at second and Don Kessinger at shortstop were a solid double play combination, and Kessinger boosted his batting average nearly 100 points to .274.

The New York Mets also made use of the long ball in beating the Boston Red Sox 5-3 at Winter Haven, Fla. Cleon Jones hit a two-run homer and Chuck Hiller slammed a solo shot in the sixth inning.

Reggie Smith hit a two-run homer and rookie second baseman Mike Andrews got five straight hits for the Red Sox.

Los Angeles edged Washington 10-8 at Vero Beach, Fla., when rookies John Wehaff and Jim Campanis broke an 8-8 tie with run scoring singles in the seventh inning.

Ron Hunt collected two singles and a triple and Bob Bailey drove in three runs with a double and a triple for Los Angeles. Pittsburgh sent the Kansas City Athletics to their fourth straight setback, 7-1 at Bradenton, Fla., as Matty Alou singled in two runs and Stargell drove in three with a single and double.

Minnesota jumped on Pedro Ramos for five runs in three innings and belted Philadelphia 7-3 at Clearwater, Fla. It also was the Phillies' fourth straight loss. Rich Rollins hit a bases-empty homer for the Twins.

In a Grapefruit League night game, Orlando Martinez squeezed home pinch runner Ed Pacheco in the bottom of the 10th to give Atlanta 1-0 victory over Baltimore at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson was hit on the protective helmet by a Phil Miekro fastball in the fourth inning. He was not believed to be seriously hurt, but was taken to a hospital for X rays.

In two Cactus League games, California edged Cleveland 6-5 at Tucson, Ariz., and the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 4-2 at Phoenix, Ariz.

California broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning on Merritt Ranney's double, scored three more in the top of the ninth and then cut short Cleveland's three-run rally in the bottom of the inning.

The Cubs got what proved to be the winning run in the fourth when Adolfo Phillips walked, stole second, moved to third on a balk and scored on Don Kessinger's groundout.

Willis Mays tripled for San Francisco and now has a .600 exhibition average—6-for-10.

Valley Hits New High In Attendance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Louisville's Missouri Valley champions, hopeful of playing in the NCAA finals on their home court, smashed all Valley attendance records this season, helping the conference to a record draw of 756,092 fans for 110 home games.

Louisville drew 166,823 fans and averaged 11,916 for its 14 home games, well above the Valley record of 10,741 per game set by Wichita in 1966. Louisville drew 17,550 for the Cincinnati game Feb. 4, biggest crowd ever to see a Valley league game.

The Valley average of 6,874 broke the record of 6,805 set last year and the total attendance smashed the mark of 731,356 for 106 home games last season. Louisville was more than 2,000 a game above its old school record.

Wichita averaged 10,405 for 13 games, close to its record 1966 pace. Tulsa set a school record with a 4,452 average, 139 above the mark set last year. So did North Texas with a 3,296 average, 78 over its old mark, also set a year ago.

St. Louis averaged 6,633, down only 68; Cincinnati 6,521, down 445; Bradley 6,140, down 380 a game; and Drake 5,708, down 491.

New member Memphis State gave an indication of things to come with a turnout of 115,316 for 15 home games, or a 7,688 average trailing only Louisville and Wichita. Including Memphis State, the total Valley figures were 871,408 for 125 home games, bringing the average close to 7,000.

MICKEY MANTLE is going through some stretching exercises at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., spring home of the New York Yankees. Mickey is switching to first base this year.

Barrage Leads Herd To Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball is a labor of love for Southern Illinois' skillful Salukis, but jumping George Stone and the Thundering Herd prefer to shoot first — and let the good times roll.

"When I'm hot, I just keep pumping. I'm not bashful," an exultant Stone exclaimed Monday night after his 46-point barrage led Marshall's hurrying Herd to a record-breaking 119-98 triumph over Nebraska in the National Invitation Tournament.

"The keys for us have been balance and hard work," said Coach Jack Hartman, whose Salukis preceded Marshall into the NIT semifinals by wearing down Duke 72-63 in the first game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Marshall and Southern Illinois play the respective winners of tonight's Providence-Marquette and New Mexico-Rutgers pairings in Thursday night's semis.

Stone, an angular 6-foot-7 jump-shooter whose accuracy appears to improve as he moves farther away from the hoop, put together the high-point game thus far in the tourney as Marshall shattered Bradley's 10-year-old NIT record of 116 points.

The junior forward, limited to 15 points in Marshall's 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova last Thursday night, poured in 26 in the first half against the stunned Cornhuskers, hitting on 12 of 19 shots from the floor. He finished with 20-for-38 and a school point record.

Sophomore Dick Garrett, rugged Ralph Johnson and Little All-America Walt Frazier led Southern Illinois past the Blue Devils for its 16th straight victory and 22nd in 24 starts. Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college division team, has won seven of nine games against major foes.

"We've played some of the best teams in the country and we thought we'd have a good chance here," said Frazier, the 6-3 floor general who contributed 17 points, nine rebounds and six assists to the SIU attack. "Some teams have one star. We have five players on the court—no stars. We have desire and momentum. We could go all the way."

Chicago Story About The Same

MONTREAL (AP) — The Chicago story, also known as the National Hockey League's top 10 scoring statistics, remains about the same. Six Black Hawks are still there, only their point totals have increased.

Chicago's Stan Mikita increased his league leading point total to 88 with two goals and a pair of assists. His teammate, Bobby Hull boosted his second place total to 70 with two goals and two assists, and Ken Wharham, another Black Hawk, ran his points to 59, one ahead of fourth place Norm Ullman of Detroit, with two goals and an assist.

The other three Chicago players in the first 10 are Doug Mohns, eighth, Phil Esposito, ninth, Pierre Pilote, 10th.

Introducing the new Dodge A108 king-size van

This cutaway view may seem an odd way to show a big compact. You'd expect us to talk about the space in the new Dodge A108—how it carries 10-foot-long items flat inside the van, or 256 cubic feet of things. The Dodge A108 clearly moves a lot of material. But the outstanding thing about this new Dodge king-size van is how easily it moves big cargoes, with such features as a heavy-duty rear axle, easy-breathing Slant Six power, big brakes, large 21-gallon fuel tank and a full-foam bucket seat. No other extended compact includes all these features as standard equipment. And no other compact truck offers such powerful options as a 210-hp V8, the biggest engine in its field, or a heavy-duty manual transmission as well as the LoadLife 3-speed automatic. That's why the illustration above makes so much sense. The new Dodge A108 not only gives you a lot of space, it also gives you a lot of truck.
